

NORMAL NOTES

At last that longed for time of all the year is here—the Christmas holidays. And with them comes the necessity of saying goodbye to some of our friends. But the Christmas seniors know that wherever they go they have our best wishes for their success.

This last week has seen several pleasant affairs given in their honor. Saturday evening Mr. and Mrs. Eastburn, of the faculty, were the hosts of the senior play cast at dinner in their home. Dancing and music made the evening an enjoyable one to all present. The guests were the Misses Beatrice Hicks, Marguerite Wyrick, Marbury Henning, Bobby Harvison, Mary Beckwith and Lillian Munro and Mrs. Beckwith.

The senior class entertained a number of their friends Monday night with a delightful dinner dance. Covers for sixteen were laid at the den. The approaching holidays furnished the motive for the decorating of the attractive table. After the banquet the guests adjourned to the Commercial Hotel, where the remainder of the evening was spent in dancing. Those present were: Doctor and Mrs. Creager, Mr. and Mrs. Eastburn, the Misses Edith Ingledew, Bobby Harvison, Beatrice Hicks, Esther Isaacson, Lillian Munro, Zella Wells, Mary Beckwith, Pearl Lyles and Messrs. Mervin Mills, Ray Ramsey, Ed Clark, Raymond Prochnow, Elmer Jackson, Francis Chisholm, Ray and L. E. Gray.

Lost! A Normal student, Miss Ernestine Steel, was unfortunate enough to lose a purse containing thirty-five dollars. Miss Steele would greatly appreciate any information regarding the same. She resides in Campbell hall.

Perhaps the most attractive children's program ever given at N. A. N. S. was that presented by the training school, Tuesday evening. The dainty costumes and graceful little figures of the participants served to make the illusion of fairy land very real. "The Maker of Magic," as produced, gave evidence that the children had been long and carefully trained.

The program opened with an "Angel" drill given by five of the student teachers, the Misses Pauline Jones, Marguerite Wyrick, Siegfried Soder, Edith Harrison and Marie Taylor. Following came the play proper with its various groups of little dancing figures. One very pretty number was the "Snow" dance by Miss Loretta Bondesson.

After the little playlet had ended the children grouped themselves on the stage for the Christmas story which Miss Lillian Munro so ably told. From start to finish the entertainment was a success and great credit is due the teachers who so carefully coached it. The proceeds will be turned over to the Junior Red Cross.

Tuesday evening at the "Maker of Magic" our stately seniors made their first appearance in their caps and gowns. That they felt the weight of the occasion was evidenced by their sombre faces, but they soon forgot their dignity and looked quite natural again.

Mrs. Helen Hanshue the preceptress of Morton hall, was the dinner guest of the Misses Pearl Lyles and Beatrice Hicks, Sunday evening.

Miss Thelma Harvison spent Sunday in Winslow as the guest of Mrs. Wyrick.

Mr. Lawver, the athletic director, left us last Saturday for his home in Texas. His work among us has been very fruitful of results and it is with real regret that we see him leave N. A. N. S.

Why so many gloomy faces and puffed-up brows on the campus? You see we're having final exams and we simply can't look cheerful.

The Misses Peggy Reagan, Frances Blaylock, Jane McConkey, Madeline Fairchild and Messrs. Ernest Hogan and George Lampert were the guests of Miss Selma Bush at a delightful dinner Friday evening.

Miss Lillian Munro was greatly pleased to have as her guest her aunt, Mrs. Mitt Sims, of Phoenix. Mrs. Sims arrived Wednesday evening to be with Miss Munro until after the graduation exercises.

A delicious breakfast was given Sunday morning in honor of the Campbell hall seniors by the Misses Marbury Henning, Ruth Murray, Marie Taylor and Marguerite Wyrick. The guests were Zella Wells, Mary Beckwith, Lillian Munro and Thelma Harvison.

The Kinlani Nalnisi society had charge of the regular assembly Monday presenting a program in keeping with the season of the year.

Miss Lillian Munro read a cutting from the "Other Wise Man," by Van Dyke. A vocal solo, "The Gypsy Trail," by Rudyard Kipling, was ably rendered by Mary Beckwith. Mabel Moorman told us "Who Santa Claus Wuz," and the entertainment was completed by several Christmas carols presented by the Girl Glee club under the direction of Miss Walsh. Those in the chorus were: Mildred Reed, Marjorie McClean, Pearl Tucker, Florence Brooks, Blanche Gardner, Beulah Bryant, Eddie Ruth Cox, Beatrice Shufeld, Lilly Belle Tally and Marguerite Wyrick.

Mr. and Mrs. Billy Borum entertained Tuesday evening with one of their enjoyable dancing parties. The guests were the Misses Mary Beckwith, Lillian Munro, Marbury Henning, Marie Taylor, Marguerite Wyrick and Messrs. Elmer Jackson, Ray Ramsey, Stanton Borum, Francis Chisholm and Brig Naegle.

The following is a schedule of senior week, Dec. 15-16-17-18:

Monday—Senior class banquet.

Tuesday—The Maker of Magic.

Wednesday—President's Dinner to graduating class.

Thursday—Commencement. The address of the evening was made by Dr. Von Klein Smid, of the University of Arizona. The certificates were presented by President J. O. Creager, and the certificates by Superintendent C. O. Case.

Wednesday evening Dr. and Mrs. J. O. Creager entertained the Christmas seniors at dinner in the dining room of the domestic science department. The table was beautifully decorated in red and green, while the places were marked with charming little "sweet girl graduate" place cards. The guests were Mr. and Mrs. Pollock, M. I. Powers, the Misses Zella Wells, Pearl Lyles, Sarah Herman, Esther Isaacson, Mary Beckwith, Lillian Munro, Edith Ingledew, Thelma Harvison and Beatrice Hicks.

At nine o'clock a reception was given by the president and his wife to the graduating class, the faculty being the invited guests.

The basketball game between the Prescott high girls and the N. A. N. S. team Friday evening was perhaps the best played this season. The team work displayed on both sides was excellent and from start to finish it was a good, quick game. At the end of the first half the score was 33-15 in favor of the Normal, and the score at the final was 83-29 in favor of N. A. N. S. Our line-up was as follows: Annie Akin and Marie Easton, forwards; Ruth Murray and Emma Risdon, centers; Harriet Buckbee and Polly McGookin, guards. Prescott's line-up: Evon Morrison, Laura Theobald, centers; Maxine Davis and Vera Jackson, guards; Helen Bora and Inez Poe, forwards; Lois Poe, substitute.

The majority of students have left or are leaving N. A. N. S. for the holidays. Miss Marie Taylor goes to Nogales; Miss Marguerite Wyrick to Winslow; Marie Easton, Williams; Edith Harrison and Beatrice Hicks; Phoenix; Siegfried Soder, Winslow; Mabel Moorman, Humboldt; May Hopkins, Safford; Kathleen Linn, Tempe; Delia Gist, Skull Valley; Helen Vance, Prescott; Keturah Slagle, Phoenix; Eddie Ruth Cox, Somerton; Thelma Harvison, Yuma; Helen Shupp, Skull Valley; Jackie Humphrey, Phoenix; Mary Beckwith, Winslow; Helen Sapp, Holbrook; Lillian Munro, Douglas; Mildred Dimmick, Kingman; Ruth Murray, Springerville; Marjorie Shrum, Jerome; Millie Lee, Holbrook; Senie Fuqua, Parker; Maude Greer, Holbrook; Mildred Reed, Phoenix; Marbury Henning, Pinto; Agnes Pierson, Fort Wingate, N. M.; Margaret Hall, Virginia; and Anna Powell, Florence; Dorothy Shauver and Harriet Buckbee, Peach Springs; Dollie Kanady and Lilly Belle Tally, Jerome; Emma Risdon, Clifton.

The students remaining on the campus are Nettie Branyon, Pearl Lyle, Loretta Bondesson, Esther Carr and Mrs. Ethel Saunders.

CANT ISSUE BONDS WITHOUT VOTERS CONSENT

reconstruction of roads, bridges, highways and public buildings. Will say that the supreme court of the state of Arizona in the case of Board of Supervisors of Yavapai County vs. Hawkins, passed on this question and handed down an opinion deciding that as such matters involve the expenditure of large sums of money, it was evidently the intention of the legislature to lodge the power to issue bonds in the hands of the taxpayers and for them to say by their vote whether they care to assume the obligations before they are discharged the indebtedness so assumed falls on the taxpayers.

It seems that the personal assent of the taxpayer, by his vote, must be secured before bonds can be issued against his property.

I am therefore of the opinion that in no instance can bonds be issued by the board of supervisors for such purposes as you mention without first having held an election as provided by law.

Very truly yours,
F. M. GOLD,
County Attorney.

Mohave county supervisors recently misinterpreted the law and advertised a sale of bonds to raise money for extensive improvements without first submitting the question of bonding to the voters. The bonding companies refused to handle the issue, asserting that the law had not been complied with; and investigation proved they were right.

LIVESTOCK AND RANGE CONDITIONS IN ARIZONA

According to reports of stock and range conditions made to the weather bureau, the north-central counties experienced the coldest weather of the season during the past week. Daytime temperatures, however, were sufficiently high to materially reduce the snow covering, leaving a large part of the range bare. Monday morning three inches of snow lay on the ground at Grand Canyon, two inches at Pinedale and patches of snow in the vicinity of Williams. Monday evening six inches were reported at Flagstaff, two inches less than the week previous. Very little feeding is being done except where the ground is completely covered with snow or where stock is being fed for market. Large numbers of cattle are being fed in the Salt River valley, silage forming a large part of their daily ration.

Crop Progress in Arizona

Orange picking made rapid progress during the week, the weather being unusually favorable. Most of the crop has been harvested and the last shipments of importance will probably go out this week. Grape fruit will be permitted to remain on the trees and will be picked as wanted during the next three months. Favorable weather conditions and dry soil facilitated cotton picking and accounted for large deliveries at gins.

MARRIED WHEN 11 YEARS OF AGE, SEEKS DIVORCE

In the suit of Moola Singh versus Pani Singh, filed by Weldon J. Bailey in Phoenix Wednesday, one of the most unusual divorce cases in the history of the superior court was instituted. Singh, who is a native of India, alleges in his complaint that at the age of 11 years, in accordance with the customs of that country, his parents married him to Pani Singh, who was also then a child. After the ceremony, he declares, the girl was returned to her home for several years, and later, she returned to him and they lived together.

Less than a year later, he decided to emigrate to America. His wife refused to come with him, and in the intervening years she has persisted in her refusal, Singh claims, to come to this country. For this reason he is suing for divorce.

JEROME WOOD DEALERS WANT IT ALL RIGHT NOW

Agents of the department of justice caused the arrest of five Jerome wood dealers on charges of violation of the Lever act in connection with the sale of wood sold, according to the complaints, at $45 a cord. The department agents promised a searching investigation of every case of alleged profiteering of any kind and other arrests were expected. The wood sellers, mostly Mexicans, were held in jail, their bail having been fixed at $2500, pending hearing before United States Commissioner Hughes.

YUMA LAND SALE FOUND READY SALE WEDNESDAY

Farmers and others eagerly bought the Yuma bench lands sold by the government at public auction Wednesday, all purchases being above the $25 minimum and the highest bid reaching $155, according to word brought to Phoenix by Rudolph Kutchler of the state tax commission. In the company with other members of the commission Kutchler was present at the sale.

representing him and Harben & Gold the defendant. It was decided that Albin is to have $75 a month for the time he spent in managing the business, and is to retain the homestead, the plaintiff to get what there is left. Probably the settlement will be made by the plaintiff taking the movable things from the homestead as his share.

The jury were: Lewis C. Owens, B. A. Cameron, A. T. Keeler, W. S. Borum, Robert J. Brent, Donald Chisholm, V. M. Slipper, Frank Leslie, E. J. Kirwin, W. S. Brown, Hayes Weidner, E. T. Hinda.

In the hearing of the suit of Oscar Nelson against Dr. R. O. Raymond, for $32,000 damages, C. B. Wilson, of Flagstaff, and Robert McMurchie, of Phoenix, represented the defendant, and Mercer Hemperley, of Flagstaff and Ike Barth, of Albuquerque, the plaintiff.

The case was enlivened by one or two tilts between the attorneys. In one of them, Mr. McMurchie accused Barth of "befuddling the issue." "Step outside the courtroom and I'll befuddle you," Barth retorted.

"You're too fat to befuddle anything," cooed McMurchie.

Then Hemperley jumped up to interpose something, but Barth with a Napoleonic gesture bade him sit down. "I'll handle this myself," he said.

Nelson and Arthur Vandever were the prosecution's only witnesses. Dr. P. G. Cornish, of Albuquerque; Dr. Jeffries, of Williams, and Dr. Lewis Morton, of Los Angeles, are here to testify in Dr. Raymond's behalf.

The jury members are: John Chisholm, E. A. Baker, Roy Baird, Howard L. Hunt, Fred A. Theis, D. S. Lewis, Otto A. Manguson, H. B. White, J. B. Scott, L. F. Wesley, W. H. Nickell, Wm. H. Switzer.

BUT IT DIDN'T

There was a lot of excitement among the Mexicans over the prophecy that this good old world of ours was to be discarded on Wednesday. A lot of them had read or heard of the prophecy, and were inclined to accept it as a sure thing.

Henry Albers, of the Flagstaff Laundry, said that one or two of the Mexican girls in his employ who believed the end was coming convinced all the others that it was sure enough due. He and Mrs. Albers then got to work among the girls, finally convincing them that their jobs would be good long beyond the promised date of annihilation if they would stop talking calamity and attend to their work.

JUDGE BUTTON'S SON DIES

Judge Button left for Kansas City, Mo., on Monday to be at the bedside of his oldest son, who was seriously ill. A telegram has been received by Mrs. Button announcing the son's death. The funeral was held in Kansas City on Friday. The many friends of Judge and Mrs. Button sympathize with them in their bereavement.—Williams News.

A MEMORY OF HIS YOUTH

"The prominent citizen was a country boy, I'm told."

"Yes. That's evident from the way he regards his own youngsters."

"How so?"

"He fears they'll never amount to much in this world because he is unable to regulate their morals in an old-fashioned woodshed."

THE SPEEDER'S EXCUSE

Mexico will soon make enough by selling our consuls back to us to start another war.

DID YOU MOVE?

Has your neighbor moved? We want to know. The new City Directory, published by The Sun, is almost ready for the press. We want it to be correct up to the last minute.

You will confer a great favor upon us and upon the community if you will write or phone us the name of any person you know has moved to another place in town, or out of town, or into town, within the last four weeks.

Thank you.

SUPREME COURT SAYS IT WILL BE A DRY XMAS

War time prohibition was held constitutional Monday by the supreme court in unanimous decision. Thus vanished the hopes of many for a "wet" holiday time.

No decision was rendered on the cases involving the constitutionality of the Volstead law, the prohibition enforcement act, framed to carry out the intent of the prohibition amendment to the constitution.

In passing, however, Associate Justice Brandeis did hold that the prohibition amendment was binding on the states as well as the federal government. The court entirely reversed the contention of the "wets" that war-time prohibition was outside the war-time powers of congress and pointed out that war-time control of food and railroads still was in effect.

PARDON BOARD CONSIDERING EYTINGE CASE

Waiving all consideration of guilt in the case of Louis V. Eytinge, who has been confined in the state penitentiary at Florence for thirteen years on a murder charge conviction, State Attorney General Wiley E. Jones holds that the state board of pardons and paroles is considering Eytinge's case now along other lines.

The attorney general is a member of the board and was with the board Sunday at the Florence penitentiary when Eytinge's application for a parole was given consideration and deferred for further action. According to the attorney general, the board has little occasion to pass upon the guilt of prisoners for the regularly constituted courts have done that and it is seldom that a miscarriage of justice occurs.

OFFICERS ARREST WOMEN IN SATURDAY NIGHT RAID

Aided by a large force of deputies, Sheriff Montgomery made a number of raids Saturday night on Chinese opium dens and rooming houses in Phoenix. Several arrests were made including two girls, each of whom gave her name as Madge Collins.

Large quantities of opium, valued at hundreds of dollars, Chinese gambling apparatus and lottery tickets, and paraphernalia used in smoking opium were captured in the underground dens of Chinatown. All of the inmates of these dens were able to make their escape through secret passages and trapdoors, while the officers were breaking down the barred doors which afforded entrance to the places.

$225,000 CATTLE DEAL MADE BY CALIFORNIANS

Five thousand head of Mexican cattle, it is reported, have been crossed through the port of San Fernando in the Altar valley during the first two days of the present week. The cattle were purchased for shipment to California points by a group of buyers whose headquarters during the past month have been in Tucson. The principals of this party are Joseph Ayer of Sargent, W. H. Roche of Los Angeles and Wess Eads of King City, Cal.

The cattle, representing an average of $45 per head, or a total of $225,000, were driven to Tucson for loading over the Tucson-Sasabe road.

WILL DEPORT ALIENS CONVICTED IN STATE

Hereafter convicted aliens in Arizona on expiration of their sentences will be turned over by the state to federal authorities for deportation as undesirable aliens, it is announced at the offices of Governor Campbell.

The state board of pardons have paroled and turned over to the government Raul Juarez, as an undesirable alien.

It will be the policy of the state in the future to rid itself, and assist the nation in becoming rid of any alien element proving itself criminal or otherwise undesirable, it was announced.

White, to leave a guard there. Then he went back, found Owens, and grinned broadly when the latter told him that "White" was Wall, who had formerly worked for McConkey & Johnson, in Williams.

Next morning, Harrington confronted Wall with Owens, and the former broke down and confessed.

When Wall left here with McConkey's car, at Harrington's request, Sheriff Harpe caught him at Holbrook. Wall knew Harpe, made him believe that he had the wrong man, and got away before Harrington reached there, but left the car, which was restored to its owner.

Then Wall went to Phoenix, working for the Union Auto Co. until identified and arrested there a few days ago. Mr. Buetke, president of the company, offered to stand back of Wall, and the latter has wired him to go on his bond.

Wall's apparent intimate acquaintance with several convicted bootleggers, leads Harrington to believe that he may have a record. Wall himself says this is the first time he ever has been in jail and that he is from Missouri, where he was raised in an orphanage. He is about 30 years old, fairly well dressed and not unprepossessing in appearance.
